

Emerging Economy Studies

Published in association with International Management Institute, New Delhi

<http://emi.sagepub.com>

CALL FOR PAPERS! Submit your manuscript today:

<http://www.sagepub.in/journals/Journal202338?#tabview=manuscriptSubmission>

Emerging Economy Studies (EMI) announces a call for papers and invites manuscripts for the forthcoming issues.

Emerging Economy Studies intends to provide intellectual space to scholars and practitioners working on diverse issues concerning emerging economies, who have something new to say. The journal invites contributions from scholars who are analyzing, corporate managers who are experiencing and policy makers who are participating in the processes of economic development and social changes that are happening in the emerging economies. The journal also invites papers, which are dealing with a specific emerging economy or making comparative assessment between different emerging economies. Papers which may be focusing on particular sector or inter-sectoral changes in the case of emerging economy or across different emerging economies are also welcome.

Four key reasons to publish in Emerging Economy Studies:

- The journal publishes original empirical as well as research papers, policy papers and book reviews.
- Publication in print and online via the award winning SAGE Journals platform will ensure maximum visibility and discoverability of your work.
- Your article will be peer reviewed.
- Unprecedented international reach: SAGE is the world's leading independent academic publisher. SAGE proudly retains a culture that puts quality and individual relationships first. Your article will have global reach through SAGE's principal offices in Los Angeles, London, New Delhi and Singapore.

Submission of manuscripts should be made electronically only. The electronic version of the article should be e-mailed to the "The Editor, Emerging Economy Studies" at emi@imi.edu.